

The Difference in Glove Technology

Our Ultra Flex medical examination gloves contain low protein levels which promise exceptional softness and comfort for those healthcare professionals with sensitive skin. Latex exam gloves provide elastic modulus to ensure increased comfort and reduced hand fatigue during daily operations. This glove is available in powdered and powder free (see above). Both cases come packaged with 100 gloves per box and 10 boxes per case.

These latex powdered disposable gloves are created with a soft modulus that fits like a second skin. Approved for food use, these gloves are available in powdered or powder-free. The 999 series come packaged with 100 gloves per box and 10 boxes per case. Also available in the 299 series packaged with 4 boxes per case.

Nitrile gloves such as the Nitra-Flex 700 Series are chemically resistant to insure your safety even when handling the most toxic chemicals. Being both free of latex and powder, it eliminates the discomfort associate

For more information
Please contact
Unique Supplies
And Equipment, Inc.
(843) 571-6589

Produced from a state of the art synthetic formulation, these Vinyl gloves are the ideal choice for the medical laboratory and certain

